PREFACE.

The following pages I was prompted to undertake on account of the great difficulty experienced by myself and others, in getting as complete a list as possible of these beautiful and interesting "Souvenirs" of the past, which the necessities of the time and occasion brought into existence, and which are now happily in a great measure abolished; The lists and descriptions of the few Revenue stamps published in Philatelic papers, catalogues and price lists being often very meager, defective, and not to be depended upon.

My whole aim and desire has been to place upon Record and give a perfect list, in as concise, comprehensive and systematic order as possible, together with the correct Name, Size, Color, Issue, Variety &c. of every stamp, compiled from Official and other reliable sources; The descriptions are in almost every case taken from the stamps themselves, either in my own possession or that of others; The principle reason heretofore why these stamps have not been more generally collected, is in not knowing what to collect, which knowledge I have endeavored to supply, trusting that the information obtained herein will be understood and appreciated, for people are generally interested in what they understand and are apt to ridicule any study they are ignorant of; Although this has been a "labour of love" I have been to considerable time, trouble, and expense in bringing about this result, the difficulties and perplexities attending the obtaining a sight of certain stamps, and the labor of examining, measuring and arranging all into order, will be appreciated by the few who have engaged in similar pursuits.

These stamps were first authorized to be issued by "Act of Congress July 1st. 1862", which went into effect Oct. 1st. 1862, and by various Acts and Amendments, from that time to "Act of March 3d. 1883" when they were abolished, and are now obsolete, with the exception of those on Tobacco, Spirits, and Malt liquors which are still in use.

As miniature specimens of American art they are with but few exceptions equal if not superior to any in Modern times, and will compare favorably with those of the best days of Greece and Rome, and afford a fine field of study for Designers, Engravers &c. for similar work hereafter, and I need only mention the names Continental, National and American Bank Note Cos. and U. S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing, from whom they originated, as guarantees of their excellence.

The Impressions and Colors of many of these stamps vary to a considerable extent from their normal state, particularly those that have passed through many editions, owing to a variety of causes, the principle of which are, stage of plate, bad printing, different mixtures of ink, chemical action of light, heat or moisture, on the ingredients of the ink and paper, and other local causes.
Proof and trial color impressions exist of nearly every stamp mentioned in the text, and as these are not printed on "distinctive" paper, and were never intended to be issued, they have not been included; so far as known there are but two counterfeits: "Henning & Bonhakk" and "B. & H. D. Howard" match stamps, whose proprietors were tried and convicted for counterfeiting their own stamps, and defrauding the Revenue department; None have been forged to palm off on Collectors and there are no reprints.

The dimensions I have given in inches instead of millimeters, that they may be more generally understood; the measurements include only the printed impression, and not the margin; Perforations are on all four papers and average 12; The Rouletted are on Water-marked paper only.

The book is also designed for the instruction and information of the general reader, as well as a reference and descriptive list for the more advanced collector, care being taken to make the descriptions plain and intelligible, avoiding all technicalities, and to convey a correct and truthful impression of the many varieties enumerated, at the same time the uninitiated may be instructed in the rudiments of a study that is daily assuming a more prominent position.

In a work requiring so much research some errors may have crept in with a few omissions, it is hoped however, that enough will be found in the book to justify its title as "A Cyclopædia of the Revenue stamps of the United States."

I here offer my sincere thanks to those gentlemen whose names I am not at liberty to mention, who kindly afforded me assistance in the compilation of the following pages by allowing me to examine their valuable collections, enabling me to add to the list, the descriptions of many stamps and varieties not to be found elsewhere.

Oscar Scarlett.

5 cent Proprietary, Black, do. 1876. do. do.
6 cent Proprietary, Blue, do. 1875. do. do.

Note.—All the foregoing and following stamps are printed on what is known as "distinctive" paper, manufactured exclusively for the U. S. Government under contract; One of its distinctive features is the introduction of colored silk threads into the body of the paper while in process of manufacture, in combination with a distributed silk fibre of different colors; another kind of "distinctive" paper used since the latter part of 1878 on which all Internal Revenue, Proprietary &c. stamps are printed is a paper Water-marked with the initials "U. S. I. R." (United States Internal Revenue.) in every sheet on which the stamps are printed, and is not found entire on every stamp. In 1878 the Government as an experiment used a "distinctive" Pink paper which met with general opposition from the Proprietors of Patent Medicines, Matches &c., some few of whom returned them to the Government and were never issued; since then they are printed on white wove Water-marked paper; Great care and supervision is exercised in its manufacture and printing, as every sheet has to be accounted for, and subjects the violator to the provisions of section 5430 of the Revised Statutes, which reads as follows:

"Every person * * * * who has or retains in his control or possession, after a distinctive paper has been adopted by the Secretary of the Treasury for the obligations and other securities of the United States, any similar paper adapted to the making of any such obligation or other security, except under the authority of the Secretary, or some other proper officer of the U. S. shall be punished by a fine of not more than 5000 dollars, or by imprisonment at hard labor not more than fifteen years, or by both."
PRIVATE PROPRIETARY MATCH STAMPS.

These stamps including Proprietary Medicine and Playing-card stamps were ordered by Act of Congress in 1862; The plates were engraved and printed previous to Oct. 15th. 1880, by the National Bank Note Co. of New York by contract, and subsequently by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing at Washington, D.
